

Institute of Business
and Technology

Start date: February 2024

Study mode: Online/On-campus

Fees: Online €980/On-campus - €1,395

*Contact us for next availability.

*Check our website or contact our sales agents for information on our current promotional offers

Supply Chain Management Diploma

Study here.
Succeed anywhere.

ibat.ie

Institute of Business
and Technology

Supply Chain Management Diploma

Rather than incorporate as many leading/new practices as possible, the best supply chain management approach is to pick practices which are appropriate to the organisation and the markets it serves. Learn about the concepts of procurement and supply chain management to help shape your organisation.

This diploma will help broaden your knowledge of supply chain management, preparing you to take on one of the following roles: purchasing and planning manager, store demand analyst, logistics specialist and reorder planner.

What will I experience?

Throughout the diploma, you will learn about the most current principles and practices in supply chain management. Additionally, you will understand how to integrate good practices into your organisation's existing processes to achieve your desired competitive performance.

What will I learn?

- Decision-making models
- Defining the concept of purchasing
- Global trade and supply chain management

enquiry@ibat.ie
+353 1 8075 055
ibat.ie